POS 2041/Course Description and Broad Goals:

This three (3) credit hour course is a comprehensive examination of the theory, practice, ideals, and realities of government and politics in the US. Major areas of study include behavior and participation, the legislative process, the presidency, the judicial process, and the administrative state.

- This course is online, reading based, with weekly assignments to support learning with feedback from instructor. Assignments are class discussions via the Canvas discussion boards or short essays submitted to directly instructor.
- The broad goals of the course include students learning and retaining a significant amount of information about how the US government functions as well as components of our Constitution and key founding documents; students will also learn about their role in public life of the US society, while developing critical thinking and deductive reasoning skills; and improving written communication skills.

Student Learning Outcomes:

Student Learning Outcomes

The successful POS 2041 experience will result in the student's ability to correctly describe, analyze, and evaluate the following concepts as demonstrated by student performance in written assignments, research, collaborate learning projects, objective and subjective test questions designed to gauge and reinforce critical thinking and communication skills. To facilitate your learning and prepare for exams, please get in the habit of reviewing this list every week to ensure you understand and remember the main ideas.

1. Describe and analyze the foundations and development of the US government by examining historical events leading up to the Revolutionary War, the failure of the Articles of Confederation, and evaluating the content of the United States Constitution and its primary principles;
2. Discuss the political significance of civil rights protections and individual liberties in the US by describing the content and relevance of the Bill of Rights and other Constitutional amendments, and by applying Constitutional principles to historical and contemporary issues;
3. Describe and evaluate the structure, roles, and powers of the institutions of American government, including contemporary public policymaking in economic, domestic, and foreign policy domains; and
4. Describe and analyze relationships between the people and the government, specifically the role of civil society and political processes like elections, and identify one's own ideological perspective(s).

6A-10.02413-1 Civics Literacy Competency

Prior to the award of an associate in arts, associate in science, or a baccalaureate degree, first-time-in-college students entering a Florida College System institution in the 2021-2022 school year, and thereafter, must demonstrate competency in civics literacy by completing (a) and (b) prior to graduation:

(a) Successfully passing either POS 2041 American Government or AMH 2020 United States History Since 1877. Each of the courses must include the following competencies:

- (1) Understanding of the basic principles and practices of American democracy and how they are applied in our republican form of government;
- (2) An understanding of the United States Constitution and its application;
- (3) Knowledge of the founding documents and how they have shaped the nature and functions of our institutions of self-government; and
- (4) An understanding of landmark Supreme Court cases, landmark legislation and landmark executive actions and their impact on law and society.

(b) Achieving the standard score on one of the following assessments:

Assessment:	Standard Score:
AP Government and Politics, US	3
AP United States History	4
CLEP: American Government	50
Florida Civics Literacy Exam	60

What you can expect from this course:

- Students enrolled in this section of POS 2041, a course delivered entirely via Canvas, can expect a comprehensive, highly detailed, and balanced study of the theory, practice, ideals, and realities of government and politics in the US. Major areas of study include behavior and participation, the legislative process, the presidency, the judicial process, and the administrative state.
- This online course is organized into weekly modules, that correspond to each textbook chapter reading assignments. Inside each specially labeled module folder you will find an assignment and a quiz. Also you will see additional resource documents and digital links to short videos or websites (data bases, plus government, think tank, and organization sites relevant to the material within each module.
- Please check course schedule for days/times I devote to our web class and contact with students.
- Barring emergencies I generally check & respond to emails & phone calls within 48 hours (excluding holidays/weekends) Tuesdays and Fridays.
- The primary learning activities in this course will be reading all of the assigned chapters within the textbook, contributing to our ongoing discussion boards, completing short essay assignments and quizzes, and taking the midterm and final exams. Extra credit assignments that relate directly to our course are in a specially labeled module folder. Many previous students have commented positively about the organization of my online courses, so you should find everything to be clear and well-labeled. But if you have questions, please do reach out to me.

Students enrolled in this course will be required to:

- Follow the schedule provided; weekly chapter assignments and extra resources are in each week's module folder.
- Read the assigned chapter(s) for the week; follow instructions to complete the accompanying assignment and chapter quiz. Each will be completed through Canvas.
 - Complete all weekly assignments and quizzes, plus the midterm and final exams AS SCHEDULED (see the course schedule in Canvas).
 - Contact the instructor via email at once with any problems or issues. I cannot handle problems unless you make me aware of them. Do not wait until the assignment or quiz due date to contact me with questions about the material.
- Students enrolled in this section of POS 2041 are expected to use their GCSC email address, and to use the textbook (noted above) plus Canvas for accessing the learning materials for this course and for all internet-based communication.

Academic Integrity Policy - Honest participation in academic endeavors fosters an environment in which optimal learning can take place and is consistent with the college's mission. Academic misconduct, including cheating or plagiarism, is destructive to the spirit of an educational environment. Social Science professors report every instance of student academic misconduct to the college for inclusion on the student's records. "Cheating" includes but is not limited to use of any unauthorized assistance in completing course work. "Plagiarism" includes, but is not limited to, the use by paraphrase or direct quotation of the published or unpublished work of another person without full and clear acknowledgment as well as the purchase of papers or projects. "Self-plagiarism" occurs when a student submits the same or considerably similar document to fulfill requirements in different classes. For example, if a student submits a term paper in Religion they originally wrote for an English class, this is self-plagiarism. Once a paper receives a grade in one class, it cannot be submitted again for another class. Sanctions for incidences of academic misconduct, depending on the severity of the incidence and/or its repetition, may range from receiving an F grade (or 0) for the test, assignment, or activity, to failure of the course, to suspension or dismissal from the college.

Student Accessibility Statement - Gulf Coast State College supports an inclusive learning environment for all students. If there are aspects of the instruction or design of this course that hinder your full participation, reasonable accommodations can be arranged. Prior to receiving accommodations, you must register with Student Accessibility Resources. Appropriate academic accommodations will be determined based on the documented needs of the student. For information regarding the registration process, email sar@gulfcoast.edu or call 850-747-3243.

Diversity of Viewpoints and Recording Lectures – A Florida College System institution may not shield students, faculty, or staff from "expressive activities", such as peaceful assembly, speeches, signs, literature, lectures, and educational materials. "Intellectual freedom and view point diversity mean the exposure of students, faculty, and staff to, and encouragement of their exploration of a variety of ideological and political perspectives" (Chapter 2021-159, Laws of Florida). In accordance with federal and state privacy laws, students may record class lectures for their own personal educational use, in connection with a complaint to the college, or as evidence in internal or external legal proceedings. Students may not publish or upload the recordings or any components thereof without the knowledge and written permission of the faculty member. Failure to obtain permission to publish could lead to the students' having to pay damages, attorney fees, and court costs. For more information about what can be recorded, please see the guidelines in the GCSC Student Handbook.

Attendance - Regular class attendance and participation are significant factors that help to promote success in college. In face-to-face courses, students are required to be in class at the beginning of each class session, as attendance will be taken at this time. If a student arrives late, it is his/her responsibility to inform the instructor after class of his/her presence. Failure to do so may result in the student being marked as "Absent." Attendance in an online/hybrid CANVAS class is defined as submission of complete written assignments prior to their posted deadline.

Withdrawals - Students may withdraw themselves from any course until the published withdrawal deadline for that term in the Gulf Coast State College catalog. Students wishing to withdraw from a course and receive a “W” must complete a withdrawal form and submit this to the Office of Enrollment Services prior to the scheduled withdrawal date as published on the college calendar. Social Sciences instructors do not withdraw students from their individual courses under any circumstances. If you feel you have a unique situation that warrants removal from all of your courses for a term after the withdrawal deadline has passed, you may contact the Vice President of Student Affairs to discuss your situation.

Consequences of Withdrawals - Two withdrawals are permitted per credit course. After that, a grade will be assigned. Please be concerned about withdrawals. When admitting students into certain programs, universities may calculate withdrawals as grades. It is your responsibility to verify the effects of enrollment and/or withdrawal upon your financial assistance (financial aid, scholarships, grants, etc.).

Incomplete Grades - Grades of Incomplete in any Social Sciences course can only be assigned to students who have an emergency arise during the last two weeks of the course.

To receive an Incomplete, students must:

- Submit a written request to the instructor prior to the last face-to-face class meeting. For online courses, a written Incomplete request must be received no later than the week before the Final Exam period begins.
- Have completed no less than 60 percent of the course requirements and be passing the course at the time the request for an Incomplete is submitted.

Important Note: The Incomplete option provides 30 days from the date grades are due to make up any missing work; if work is not submitted during this period, the grade will automatically change to an “F” in Lighthouse.

Instruments of assessment for POS 2041 include:

Final grades are composed of test scores, online quizzes, and class participation through short assignments.
