AMH 2010 Catalog/Course Description and Broad Goals:

- In this course, students will examine United States history from before European contact to 1877. Topics will include but are not limited to indigenous peoples, the European background, the Colonial Period, the American Revolution, the Articles of Confederation, the Constitution, issues within the new republic, sectionalism, Manifest Destiny, slavery, the American Civil War, and Reconstruction.
- This course is primarily lecture and reading-based.
- The broad goals of the course include students learning and retaining a significant amount of historical information; developing critical thinking and deductive reasoning skills; and, improving communication skills.

Student Learning Outcomes:

Upon successful completion of AMH 2010, students will be able to:

- Describe the factual details of the substantive historical episodes under study.
- Identify and analyze foundational developments that shaped American history from before European contact to 1877 using critical thinking skills.
- Demonstrate an understanding of the primary ideas, values, and perceptions that have shaped United States history.
- Explain the basic principles of American democracy and their application within its republican form of government.
- Identify and interpret the nation's founding documents, including the Declaration of Independence and the Constitution, and how they were applied during the period under study.
- Identify and interpret how landmark Supreme Court decisions shaped American law and society.

Specific Learning Objectives:

- Students enrolled in this section of AMH 2010 will learn the basic, chronological order of the major events that shaped American history from the Colonial Era to 1877;
- be well versed in the major eras and movements that have played an integral role in ushering in major shifts in American history; and,
- be able to explain many of the details and nuances of the land and indigenous peoples, the European background, the Colonial Period, the American Revolution, the Articles of Confederation, the Constitution, issues within the new republic, sectionalism, Manifest Destiny, slavery, the American Civil War, and Reconstruction.

6A-10.02413-1 Civics Literacy Competency

Before the award of an associate in arts, associate in science, or a baccalaureate degree, first-time-in-college students entering a Florida College System institution in the 2021-2022 school year, and thereafter, must demonstrate competency in civics literacy by completing (a) and (b) before graduation:

(a) Successfully passing AMH 2010 (United States History: Up to 1877), AMH 2020 (United States History: Since 1877), or POS 2041 (American Government). Each of the courses must include the following competencies:

- (1) Understanding of the basic principles and practices of American democracy and how they are applied in our republican form of government;
- (2) An understanding of the United States Constitution and its application;
- (3) Knowledge of the founding documents and how they have shaped the nature and functions of our institutions of self-government; and
- (4) An understanding of landmark Supreme Court cases, landmark legislation, and landmark executive actions and their impact on law and society.

(b) Achieving the standard score on one of the following assessments:

Assessment:	Standard Score:
AP Government and Politics, US	3
AP United States History	4
CLEP: American Government	50
Florida Civics Literacy Exam	60

Expectations Statements:

- Students enrolled in this section of AMH 2010 can expect a comprehensive, highly detailed, and balanced study of American history to 1877.
- I am an Adjunct Instructor in my eleventh year of instruction. I have taught at both Gulf Coast State College and Florida State University. I am always open to questions and to handling any problems you are experiencing with the course. Please be proactive and email me with questions before concerns develop into problems.
- This online course is organized into modules, each consisting of reading assignments, power points, and discussion board questions uploaded by the professor. There may also be films/documentaries relevant to the material within each module.
- Students can expect to receive replies to emails to the professor within 24-48 hours. Reply times may be extended over weekends and holidays.
- Students enrolled in this section of AMH 2010 are expected to use Canvas, the OpenStax textbook website, and their GCSC email address for accessing the learning materials for this course and for all internet-based communication.
- Students enrolled in this course will be required to:
 - Read all of the textbook chapters assigned within each Learning Module;
 - Complete all assignments by the scheduled date;
 - Contribute to the Discussion Board as prescribed, per module;
 - Complete all quizzes and exams AS SCHEDULED (see the course calendar in Canvas).
 - Contact the instructor via email at once with any problems or issues. I cannot handle problems unless you make me aware of them.

Academic Integrity Policy - Honest participation in academic endeavors fosters an environment in which optimal learning can take place and is consistent with the college's mission. Academic misconduct, including cheating or plagiarism, is destructive to the spirit of an educational environment. Social Science professors report every instance of student academic misconduct to the college for inclusion in the student's records. "Cheating" includes but is not limited to the use of any unauthorized assistance in completing coursework. "Plagiarism" includes, but is not limited to, the use by paraphrase or direct quotation of the published or unpublished work of another person without full and clear acknowledgment as well as the purchase of papers or projects. "Self-plagiarism" occurs when a student submits the same or considerably similar document to fulfill requirements in different classes. For example, if a student submits a term paper in Religion they originally wrote for an English class, this is self-plagiarism. Once a paper receives a grade in one class, it cannot be submitted again for another class. Sanctions for incidences of academic misconduct, depending on the severity of the incidence and/or its repetition, may range from receiving an F grade (or 0) for the test, assignment, or activity, to failure of the course, to suspension or dismissal from the college.

Student Accessibility Statement - Gulf Coast State College supports an inclusive learning environment for all students. If there are aspects of the instruction or design of this course that hinder your full participation, reasonable accommodations can be arranged. Before receiving accommodations, you must register with Student Accessibility Resources. Appropriate academic accommodations will be determined based on the documented needs of the student. For information regarding the registration process, email sar@gulfcoast.edu or call 850-747-3243.

Recording Lectures - Under federal and state privacy laws, students may record class lectures for their own personal educational use, in connection with a complaint to the college, or as evidence in internal or external legal proceedings. Students may not publish or upload the recordings or any components thereof without the knowledge and written permission of the faculty member. Failure to obtain permission to publish could lead to the student paying damages, attorney fees, and court costs. For more information about what can be recorded, please see the guidelines in the GCSC Student Handbook.

Attendance - Regular class attendance and participation are significant factors that help to promote success in college. In face-to-face courses, students are required to be in class at the beginning of each class session, as attendance will be taken at this time. If a student arrives late, it is his/her responsibility to inform the instructor after class of his/her presence. Failure to do so may result in the student being marked as "Absent." Attendance in an online/hybrid CANVAS class is defined as the submission of complete written assignments before their posted deadline.

Withdrawals - Students may withdraw themselves from any course until the published withdrawal deadline for that term in the Gulf Coast State College catalog. Students wishing to withdraw from a course and receive a "W" must complete a withdrawal form and submit this to the Office of Enrollment Services before the scheduled withdrawal date as published on the college calendar. Social Sciences Adjunct Instructors do not withdraw students from their individual courses under any circumstances. If you feel you have a unique situation that warrants removal from all of your courses for a term after the withdrawal deadline has passed, you may contact the Vice President of Student Affairs to discuss your situation.

Consequences of Withdrawals - Two withdrawals are permitted per credit course. After that, a grade will be assigned. Please be concerned about withdrawals. When admitting students into certain programs, universities may calculate withdrawals as grades. It is your responsibility to verify the effects of enrollment and/or withdrawal upon your financial assistance (financial aid, scholarships, grants, etc.).

Incomplete Grades - Grades of Incomplete in any Social Sciences course can only be assigned to students who have an emergency arise during the last two weeks of the course.

To receive an Incomplete, students must:

- Submit a written request to the instructor before the last face-to-face class meeting. For online courses, a written Incomplete request must be received no later than the week before the Final Exam period begins.
- Have completed no less than 60 percent of the course requirements and be passing the course at the time the request for an Incomplete is submitted.

Important Note: The Incomplete option provides 30 days from the date grades are due to make up any missing work; if work is not submitted during this period, the grade will automatically change to an “F” in Lighthouse.

Instruments of assessment for AMH 2010 include:

Discussion Boards/participation
Quizzes
Midterm
Final

Assignment of Grades: All examination and assignment grades will appear in the student’s grade book in Canvas. Final letter grades will be assigned according to the following scale:

- | | |
|----------|---------------|
| A | 90%-100% |
| B | 80%-89% |
| C | 70%-79% |
| D | 60%-69% |
| F | 59% and below |

Final and accurate course averages will not be calculated until all coursework has been submitted, including the Final Exam.

DUE DATE NOTICE

All Assignments must be completed by 11:59 PM CST on the day they are scheduled to be submitted. No extensions will be granted. This includes Exams and Quizzes.
