Delivery Method:

This is a web-based course. All online courses at GCSC utilize the Canvas Learning System. Students should read all information presented in the Canvas course site and should periodically check for updates—at least every 48 hours.

Remember: This course is not one in which students may work at their own pace. Each week, there are learning modules, assignments, online lectures, online discussions, and/or online exams with due dates. Refer to the schedule within this syllabus and within Canvas for more information.

Attendance and Make-Up Policies for this Course

Attendance Policy:

Although this course does not require scheduled class meetings, active participation in weekly learning activities is required. Students demonstrate attendance and engagement by viewing assigned lectures and videos, attending optional Zoom sessions, completing review quizzes, taking notes, and participating in course activities as assigned.

Throughout this course, you will explore foundational concepts in psychology and apply them to real-world behavior and human experiences. As a college student, you are expected to conduct yourself professionally and take responsibility for your learning. Professional behavior includes meeting deadlines, communicating respectfully, following course directions, and reviewing assignment instructions before contacting the instructor with questions.

You are responsible for checking Canvas regularly, staying informed of course announcements, meeting assignment deadlines, and following all course requirements. Academic responsibility and professional conduct are expected in all interactions within the course.

You must complete either the Syllabus Quiz or the Chapter 1 Quiz during the first week of class. Failure to complete one of these activities by the deadline will result in a No Show report.

I am committed to supporting your success and am available to answer questions or clarify course expectations. However, it is your responsibility to read course materials carefully and manage your time effectively.

Tips for Success

- Complete all assignments by the due dates listed in the course modules and syllabus.
- Review the syllabus, textbook, and course materials regularly. Follow module instructions and adhere to all college policies outlined in the student handbook.
- Check Canvas announcements and your college email frequently. Weekly participation is required. Failure to participate during a given week may result in a deduction of 2 points from your final course grade.
- College-level reading and writing skills are important for success in this course. Student support services are available through GCSC for those who need additional assistance.

- GCSC email is the official method of communication for this course. While I have provided my cell phone number for text messages, please use texting only for brief communications, such as requesting access to a quiz, notifying me of a resubmitted assignment, or asking a specific question about a quiz.
- Although email is the official method of communication for this course, all assignments should be submitted through Canvas. Do not send assignments by email or post them in the assignment comment section. The comment section is reserved for instructor feedback. If you need to respond to feedback, please do so through email.
- Late assignments will not be accepted without documented circumstances such as a medical emergency, military deployment, or jury duty.
- Approved resubmissions are not automatically reviewed. Please notify me after resubmitting your assignment so I know it is ready for re-evaluation.

Make-Up Work Policy:

- Missing any part of this schedule may prevent completion of the course. If you foresee difficulty of any type (i.e., an illness, employment change, etc.) that may prevent completion of this course, notify the instructor as soon as possible. Failure to do so will result in failure for an assignment and/or failure of the course. If I have not heard from you by the deadline dates for assignments, exams, or forums, no make-up work will be allowed (unless extraordinary circumstances exist, such as hospitalization). "Computer problems" is not an acceptable excuse.
- No late assignments will be accepted unless you provide a documented excuse (medical, deployment, or jury duty).

AI Policy for this Course

Prohibited Use of AI

The use of AI-generated content is strictly prohibited in all assignments, coursework, and throughout all stages of the work process, such as brainstorming, outlining, or drafting. This includes, but is not limited to, tools such as ChatGPT, Copilot, and Grammarly's AI function. Use of AI tools will be treated as a violation of academic integrity and may result in penalties, including a zero on the assignment and additional disciplinary actions as outlined in the college's academic integrity policy.

Each quiz will contain multiple-choice questions and can be attempted an unlimited number of times, with only the highest score being recorded. Practice quizzes will remain available throughout the entire term, but you are required to actively participate by taking quizzes each week. This method is a great way to review content and prepare for exams. The Review Quizzes account for 15% of your final course grade.

Exams 1, 2, and 3

A. Exams 1,2, and 3: Each exam consists of 25 multiple-choice questions and must be completed within 30 minutes. Unlike quizzes, exams cannot be saved and resumed later. Once an exam is opened, it must be completed in a single session. Students are allowed one attempt per exam.

B. Respondus LockDown Browser Requirement: Respondus LockDown Browser is required for all course exams. Students are responsible for ensuring that the software is installed and functioning properly before the exam period begins. Additional information about Respondus LockDown Browser is provided in the appropriate Canvas module. All testing protocols must be followed.

C. Exam Availability: Exams are available only during the dates and times listed in the course schedule and corresponding Canvas modules. Students are responsible for completing exams within the designated testing window.

Students are required to follow all Respondus LockDown Browser and Monitor testing procedures, including completing the required identity verification and environment scan before beginning the exam. Failure to follow the required testing protocol, including the environment scan, may result in the exam being flagged for review and a grade of zero being assigned.

Students are responsible for ensuring that their webcam, microphone, internet connection, and testing environment meet Respondus requirements before beginning an exam. Technical issues that result from failure to prepare the testing environment are not grounds for a makeup exam.

Exams 1, 2, and 3: Each exam is worth 10% of your final course grade, for a combined total of 30% of the overall course grade.

Recorded Video Presentation

- Topic: Your topic may include historical figures in psychology, theories, perspectives, and related topics. The topic must be related to the field of psychology. The format of your presentation is discussed in Canvas (See rubric and directions).
- Recording: Record yourself as if you were presenting to a live class of your peers. The presentation must be 10-15 minutes long. Your grade will be based on the rubric provided in the Canvas Module. The video presentation assignment accounts for 25% of your final course grade.

General GCSC Course Policies

Accessibility Statement

Gulf Coast State College supports an inclusive learning environment for all students. If there are aspects of the instruction or design of this course that hinder your full participation, reasonable accommodations can be arranged. Prior to receiving accommodations, you must register with Student Accessibility Resources. Appropriate academic accommodations will be determined based on the documented needs of the student. Please visit GCSC's Student Accessibility Resource \(SAR\) webpage to learn more. For information regarding the registration process, email sar@gulfcoast.edu or call 850-747-3243.

GCSC Attendance Policy

Regular class attendance and participation are significant factors that help to promote success in college. Students are expected to attend all class meetings of all courses for which they are registered.

You are expected to know the instructor's specific attendance policy as stated in the syllabus for each course. In the event of absence, you should contact your instructor as soon as possible to indicate the reason and to inquire whether make-up work is possible. (Make-up work is offered solely at the discretion of your professor.)

If your absences in a class become excessive, as stated in the course syllabus, your professor can withdraw you from the course for excessive absences without your permission.

Instructors will monitor attendance at the beginning of each semester. If you are not in attendance during this period, you may be withdrawn from the course. You will be financially responsible for the course, and a "W or NS" will appear on your transcript. Withdrawal from a course may also have implications for financial aid.

Withdrawal Policy

Two withdrawals are permitted per credit course. After that, a grade will be assigned. Please be concerned about withdrawals. When admitting students into certain programs, universities may calculate withdrawals as grades. It is your responsibility to verify the effects of enrollment and/or withdrawal upon your financial assistance (financial aid, scholarships, grants, etc.).

There are two kinds of withdrawals: student and administrative.

- Student Withdrawal (W1) - Students wishing to withdraw must complete the online Student Withdrawal Form before the scheduled withdrawal deadline as published in the College catalog. Student withdrawals initiated prior to the scheduled withdrawal deadline will be recorded as a grade of "W." The withdrawal deadline for an off-term or condensed term is one week after midterm.
- Administrative Withdrawal (W2) – A faculty member may withdraw a student up to the published withdrawal deadline for violation of the class attendance policy, in which case the student will receive a grade of "W." The withdrawal deadline for an off-term or condensed term is one week after midterm.

Students cannot withdraw from developmental studies courses (college-preparatory classes) after the drop/add period without written permission from their instructor and/or their academic advisor.

Academic Integrity

Honest participation in academic endeavors fosters an environment in which optimal learning can take place and is consistent with the college's mission. Academic misconduct, including cheating or plagiarism, is destructive to the spirit of an educational environment. GCSC professors report every instance of student academic misconduct to the college for inclusion on the student's records.

Most course syllabi include an academic honesty policy and the consequences for violating this policy. Familiarize yourself with course policies regarding authorized or unauthorized use of AI to avoid the pitfalls of academic dishonesty.

The following definitions will apply:

"Cheating" includes but is not limited to the use of any unauthorized assistance in taking quizzes, tests, or examinations; dependence upon the aid of sources beyond those authorized by the instructor in writing papers, preparing reports, solving problems, or carrying out other assignments; the acquisition without permission of tests or other academic materials belonging to a member of the College's faculty.

"Plagiarism" includes, but is not limited to, the use by paraphrase or direct quotation of the published or unpublished work of another person without full and clear acknowledgment as well as the purchase of papers or projects. It can also include overuse of an editing program like Grammarly or submitting work written by an Artificial Intelligence (AI) generator like ChatGPT. Make certain to consult your course syllabi for your instructor's guidelines on AI material.

"Self-plagiarism" occurs when a student submits the same or considerably similar document to fulfill requirements in different classes. For example, if a student submits a term paper in Religion that they originally wrote for an English class, this is self-plagiarism. Once a paper receives a grade in one class, it cannot be submitted again for another class.

"Generative Artificial Intelligence (AI)" is technology that uses machine learning to create new content, such as text, images or code, based on user input. These systems are trained on vast amounts of data, including large language models and image or code generators. Common examples include ChatGPT, GitHub, Copilot, Google Gemini, Perplexity, and the Grammarly AI function.

Sanctions for incidents of academic misconduct, depending on the severity of the incident and/or its repetition, may range from receiving an F grade (or 0) for the test, assignment, or activity to failure of the course, to suspension or dismissal from the college.

Classroom Recording

In accordance with federal and state privacy laws, students may record class lectures for their own personal educational use, in connection with a complaint to the college, or as evidence in internal or external legal proceedings. Students may not publish or upload the recordings or any components thereof without the knowledge and written permission of the faculty member.

Failure to obtain permission to publish could lead to the students' having to pay damages, attorney fees, and court costs. For more information about what can be recorded, please see the guidelines in the GCSC Student Handbook.

Generative Artificial Intelligence (AI) Policy

The use of generative AI tools in academic work requires clear guidelines to maintain academic integrity. Please review the policy selected for this course regarding the use of AI tools such as ChatGPT, Copilot, Grammarly's AI features, and similar platforms for assignments, research, and other coursework.

See the student handbook for further information. Students with questions about acceptable use should consult their instructor.

Anti-Discrimination Policy

Gulf Coast State College does not discriminate against any person in its programs, activities, policies or procedures on the basis of race, ethnicity, color, national origin, marital status, religion, age, gender, sex, pregnancy, sexual orientation, gender identity, genetic information, disability, or veteran status.
